

Campsite Manager

For 28 days in August, we are going to host a month of clamping, camping and film making! We could do with someone practical to oversee looking after our visitors whether that's eco-tourists or film crews! Accommodation offered and paid hours for the yucky jobs like emptying compost loos!

To apply, please submit a CV or complete our volunteer application form under 'Jobs & Opportunities'

APPRENTICESHIPS

We are open to supporting young people keen to learn how to become planet protectors with real skills that will lead to fulfilling and meaningful employment, whether that's through work experience, a full time apprenticeship and even degree sponsorship. Please ask us what we can offer at info@edenkind.org

VEGANIC FARMER

An opportunity for someone passionate about growing food (or keen to learn) to oversee the seasonal planting of the veganic permaculture farm at Cwm caredig. We will consider ALL applications to help from volunteering (with or without park-up and use of our caravan) to potential buyers wanting to 'try before you buy' to people keen to commit to a season of growing while we explore other options like our help-to-own schemes or land loan to help people discover if veganic farming is for them. We can offer a paid wage to an experienced or qualified market gardener to oversee managing our green fingered volunteers.

To make further enquiries please write to info@edenkind.org or complete the volunteer application form online.

VOLUNTEERS

We are always very grateful for anything volunteers can offer whether that's writing content for us remotely or weeding the polytunnel, please complete the application form online stating your interest and we will include you in one or all of our projects! We currently have accommodation at all sites ranging from double rooms in village centre house to a self-contained apartment to a caravan, off-grid park-up and wild camping this summer! We particularly need people to help us harvest crops this autumn and plant trees November 2022 and March 2023!

FOREST KEEPER

We still need forest keepers to tend to our brand new edible forests at Cwm Caredig and continue planting saplings. Successful applicants will be invited to live off-grid for the first two years of the forest planting from Spring 2023. We are using the '100 year forest in 10 years' technique which involves heavy weeding and protecting for first two years until a canopy forms. We will have off-site winter accommodation for those not hardy enough to embrace a winter off grid, and a community hub somewhere for showers, charging devices and doing laundry year-round with organised car shares to get there if you do not have a vehicle (we would prefer no vehicles unless it's the one you live in?!).

We are currently refurbishing a live-in Luton van, which could be available to the right candidate (it has a log burner, double bed and kitchen), a trailer office soon to become a shower and compost toilet. We are open to people bringing their own 'homes on wheels' (not caravans sorry!) or staying in ours for free in exchange for a few more hours to help refurbish them. All our projects will become fundraising assets to ensure the vision for the giant edible forest can be realised. We can take on skilled people who can help with the tiny home refurbishments straight away and have a budget for skilled jobs!

All applicants need to start by registering their interest and filling out a volunteer/tribe seeking application form. We would expect applicants to be keen enough to volunteer regularly before they join us full time and in particular to help with the mass tree planting this November. People who can rustle up lots more eco-warriors to help plant the trees would be most welcome!
